

New Rules Hold Out Freshmen

Stiff Entrance Prerequisites Lower Freshman Enrollment; Total Increases

According to enrollment statistics given out Friday by Dr. R. C. Mullenix, dean of freshmen, the number of students entering Lawrence this year is considerably smaller than in the past. He states that this is due to the higher standard of admission now required. The high school records of this year's class, as grades indicate, are considerably superior to those of previous classes.

In spite of the smaller size of the Freshman class, the number of students in the college as a whole is fully up to that of previous years, which indicates a relative increase in the upper classes. The number of students entering Lawrence from other institutions, with advanced standings, is stated by Dr. Mullenix to be considerably larger than in any previous year.

Up to date 305 people have entered college as freshmen, while 16 were denied admission for various reasons. Out of the total enrollment 12 freshmen intend to specialize in engineering, 28 in business courses, 14 in journalism, 8 in medical work, 3 in dentistry and 5 in nursing, while 17 new students are taking pre-law subjects.

Dr. Mullenix says that the other 218 students, which is a large majority, desired only a general course with no special reference to a vocation.

In addition to the freshmen who have entered Lawrence, several people have come here from other schools. They are from Oberlin, Beloit, and the various normal schools.

Treuer Returns From Cornell 'U'

"Cornell University students hold scholarship in very high regard, and almost revere their professors as men who have succeeded," said Dr. A. A. Treuer of Lawrence History Department upon his return to Appleton, after spending a year's leave of absence at the Ithaca school as professor of Ancient History.

A fine intellectual atmosphere pervades everywhere at Cornell, Doctor Treuer declares. The students, largely graduates, cooperate with the professors to an extent unknown in middle-western schools.

Did Research Work

Doctor Treuer had eight hours of classes, a full schedule of work for a Cornell professor, which allowed him plenty of time for original work in research fields. He taught three courses, an undergraduates course in Ancient History, one for upperclassmen in the Economic History of Greece and Rome, and a graduate seminar in the Problems in Economic History of Greece and Rome. With the help of two graduate assistants, Doctor Treuer was able to complete two articles upon the Economic History of Greece and Rome, which was the field of his research work last year. One of these works was published in "Classified Philology" for April 1924, and the other will be printed at an early date.

Enjoyed Cornell

The most enjoyable feature of his year of absence from Lawrence, according to Doctor Treuer, were the constant associations with some of the foremost scholars in several fields, the opportunities for research work, and the fine social life among the university people, both professors and students. The college is separated from the rest of the town, built upon a high bluff overlooking Lake Cayuga. Some of the finest fraternity and sorority houses in the country are located there.

Miss Helen Treuer, daughter of Dr. Treuer, attended Cornell last year. She is now continuing her studies at Lawrence.

Wisconsin To Pick New Rhodes Scholar

An opportunity for some Lawrentian to add a fourth to the list of Rhodes scholars from this institution, is offered this year, when one man will again be chosen from Wisconsin to receive the "privilege of three years' study at Oxford university, with an income of 350 pounds or approximately $1750, a year. Men between the ages of 19 and 25, who have completed at least two years of undergraduate work, are selected from each state on the basis of their college records in scholarship, leadership, and physical vigor. The men to be elected on December 13, 1924 will begin their studies at Oxford in October of 1925. They may make their own choice of studies, without restriction.

A. E. Rollins, '04, E. A. Hooton, '07, and L. Keville Larson, '20, are the three Lawrence graduates who have formerly won the scholarship. Professor W. F. Raney of the Lawrence history department is also a former Rhodes scholar.

APPROPRIATION PUTS COLLEGE BAND ON SOLID BASIS; BEHNKEN WILL LEAD

Lawrence Band is now on a solid footing, following the recent action of the appreciation committee, as announced by Student Senate.

Bernard Behnken

An increase about one and one-half per cent in the amount of All-College Club dues which go to the Student Senate will result in a yearly appropriation of about $200 for the purpose of maintaining the band and keeping it on a more stable footing, with a paid director and adequate supplies of music and instruments.

Bernard "Tubby" Behnken has been secured to head the band for his third year this fall. Beside carrying his regular conservatory work, "Tubby" is conducting the Appleton High School band with great success. Starting with a nucleus of six men, he has built up an excellent band of 45 pieces. Behnken, who is a member of the Glee Club, has

Don Davis to Lead Chemistry Club Work

Donald Davis, '26, was elected president at the first meeting of the Chemistry Club, held last Tuesday evening, October 7th, at seven o'clock in the Chemistry Lecture room, in Science Hall.

The meeting was called to order by Hanford Johnson, president of the Club. The business of the evening was that of the election of officers for the ensuing year. The officers elected are: President, Donald Davis; vice-president, Emelia Greunke, '26; and secretary-treasurer, Hobart Burch, '25.

Dr. L. A. Youtz gave a brief talk on the purpose of the club. Any student holding an All-college Club ticket, and who is interested in Chemistry, is eligible for membership. The dues are fifty cents per quarter.

The club meets every first and third Tuesday of each month, in the Chemistry lecture room.

After the business meeting was adjourned, refreshments were served.

Plan Walk-Around For Saturday, October 18

The Walk-Around, for many years the final "get-acquainted" stunt in the fall program of Lawrence students, will be held on the campus Saturday evening, October 18, beginning at 7:30 p. m.

The program, under the direction of Olive Hamar, '26, and Lawrence Houle, '25, will take place, as usual, in front of Main Hall. An orchestra has been secured for the occasion, and there will be a well-planned program, including an All-College Sing.

A chance to get acquainted with other Lawrence students, to the accompaniment of pep-inspiring music, with the stimulus of refreshments,—that is the bare outline of an evening at the Walk-Around. Heaps of fun, a chance to meet that person whom for two weeks you've wanted to know, perhaps even the discovery of the "only one,"—these are only a suggestion of what may happen at Saturday's All-College function, for this is to be the get-acquainted opportunity famous in Lawrence traditions.

Further announcements and directions will be given at Chapel and by means of posters. Watch for them, and turn out for a successful Walk-Around!

French Club Picks Seventeen Members

Members newly elected to French club are: Thelma Bohn, Bernice Verhulst, Marshall Hulbert, Mary Zender, Mildred Baldwin, Florence Mainland, Wilma Thiede, Helen Diederich, Gertrude Zuehlke, Harriet Lucas, Ruth Heathcock, Irene Espeseth, Gwendolyn Randolph, Eunice Davis, Dorothy Ralph, Merle Hibbert, and Betty Chudacoff. The purpose of the club is to promote interest in French, and to give students an opportunity for more French conversation than is possible in the classroom.

ANNOUNCEMENT

No badges, ribbons, or other insignia are to be sold before Lawrence football games by any person or organization which has not first obtained permission from Student Senate.

A. A. U. W. State Meet Held Here

Lawrence to Help Entertain State Meet of University Women

Lawrence college will be a host and participant in the state convention of the American Association of University Women in Appleton this week-end, through the connection of the local faculty with the program, visits which the visitors will make to the campus, and a tea which is to be served for the delegates at Russell Sage, Friday afternoon.

The visiting delegates will be shown over the campus and buildings on Friday, October 17, at 4 p. m. Tea will be served by the college at 4:30 p. m. at Russell Sage dormitory. The convention will formally open with a dinner at 7 p. m. at the Hotel Conway. Dean Mary Louise Brown, president of the Appleton branch of A. A. U. W., will preside. The speaker of the evening will be Mrs. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, national president of the association.

On Saturday, 9 a. m., October 18, a business meeting will be held at the Appleton Woman's Club, which will include reports of the state and sectional committees followed by a round table discussion of branch problems. Miss Elizabeth Young will speak on "Raising the Washington Fund," and Mrs. Charles E. Buell will report on the International Conference of University Women held at Christiania, Norway, last July.

At noon a luncheon will be served by the Appleton Woman's Club, followed by a drive and visit to Lawrence campus.

Prof. Fairfield to Speak

On Saturday afternoon an educational program will be held at the Appleton Woman's Club. Prof. O. P. Fairfield of the college faculty will speak on "Promotion of Art Education" and Miss Lois Hayden Meek of Washington, D. C., A. A. U. W. educational secretary, will talk on "The Pre-School Child and Elementary Education." The concluding address will be given by Mrs. Reinhardt, national A. A. U. W. president, on "The Modern College Curriculum." Mrs. Reinhardt is also president of Mills College, California, the only woman's college on the western coast.

Local Officers

Besides Miss Brown, president of the local branch of A. A. U. W., Lawrence is represented in the Appleton branch by Miss Charlotte Lorenz, treasurer, and Miss Edna Wiegand, publicity chairman.

Oratorical Meet To Be Held Soon

All students interested in intercollegiate oratory are urged to see Prof. F. W. Orr at once if they intend to enter the inter-class oratorical contest, which will be held the first part of November.

Although the date for the inter-class contest has not as yet been definitely set, according to Professor Orr, it is time that the orators choose their subjects, and get busy on the preparation of their speeches. All students of the college except freshmen are privileged to enter the inter-class contest. The winner of this contest will represent Lawrence at the state oratorical contest in which Lawrence, Ripon, Beloit, Carroll, and Milton participate.

Has Strong Record

Lawrence has always been very successful in inter-collegiate oratory, having won either first or second place in all state meets up to the present. Last year's orator was Willard Hennock, '26. Three years ago Lawrence, represented by Karl Treuer, '23, won the state meet, also the interstate meet in which six states were represented, and took fourth place in the national contest.

Woodward Leads "Snappy Supporters"

Anna Marie Woodward, '27, was elected president of Snappy Supporters, girls' pep organization. Other officers are: Helena Koletzke, '27, vice-president; Gladys Jarrett, '26, secretary-treasurer.

Rhodes Scholar Recuperating in Neenah From Accident and Over-Study

Kevill Larson, '20, who won the Rhodes Scholarship in 1921, and who is now at home recuperating from injuries he received in a taxi cab accident in London last winter, states that his condition is not as serious as was anticipated.

"All I need is a little rest," said "Keeve." "I became seriously ill shortly after studying at Cote D'Azon, between Toulon and Marseilles, where I was working in economics and politics. I passed my examinations last June, and expect to write a thesis for an advanced degree in B Lit. You see I would have visited the United States anyway, as I am required to do some research work here, before I go back to Oxford. I am planning to go West this winter, and if I have recovered sufficiently, I will go back to England in the Autumn of 1925.

Met Prince of Wales

"It is impossible for me to tell you all that has happened since I was in Appleton last. Yes, I met the Prince of Wales. It was at a banquet given in honor of American University Women. The Prince is rather a good speaker, but rather nervous and fidgety. He has a fine delivery, however, and all of us were anxious to meet him after the banquet.

Knew Ramsay McDonald, Jr.

"The fellow that interested me far more than the Prince was the son of the Prime Minister, McDonald. Ramsey McDonald Jr. is a typical Scotchman, short and stumpy, and looks his best in a plus four suit. He is just like his father, a keen student of politics. At present he is making a debating tour for Oxford. I remember speaking to him shortly after his father was elected to that office, and asked him if he was going to live at 10 Downing Street. He said he had contemplated as much, but rather doubted whether he would be able to move before the next Prime Minister took the oath of office. You know Baldwin, the last Prime Minister, held the office only a few months."

In answer to questions touching on his arrival in England he said, "Well, it takes the American a year to get acclimated, or climatized, as the Englishman would say. During that first year I learned to play Rugby, and suffered a dislocated shoulder, a broken knee cap, and a broken finger. I guess my Rugby days are over.

"Many benefits may be derived from study at Oxford," said Mr. Larson. "Students may take a B A examination for honors within a short time after their arrival and spend the remaining three years in preparing for the great examination. It has been said of students at Oxford, that they do not work as hard at their books as do the graduate students in this country.

"The three years' stay abroad gives the students an opportunity to visit Greece, Germany, Italy, and France. They also become acquainted with nationalities from Egypt and India."

Old Lawrentian Account

"The Lawrentian of Thursday, December 8th, 1921, printed the following summary of Mr. Larson's appointment: 'Kevill Larson, '20, of Lawrence College, topped a long list of college honors Saturday by being appointed to represent Wisconsin under the terms of the Rhodes Scholarship. The Lawrentian candidate was one of 32 throughout the country to receive such an appointment; these thirty-two were chosen from a field of five hundred and six candidates.

"The successful candidate will enter Oxford in October, 1922, on a three year scholarship carrying a stipend of 1,750 dollars a year. Opportunity to do graduate work in any one of seven fields at one of the world's leading universities is one of the advantages offered, for during the summer the Rhodes scholars have opportunity to travel on the continent."

"Keeve's" college record at Lawrence was one of the big factors in bringing him the appointment. While here, he was a member of the Mace, Pi Delta Epsilon, and Phi Beta Kappa; winner of three basketball "L's"; captain of the basketball team in his fourth year; editor of the Lawrentian; a member of the Glee Club for three years; president of the Y.M.C.A. one year; winner of the Champion trophy in his junior year; in the college play cast for three years; a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity; and connected with other organizations of the school. "Keeve" was outstanding in every phase of extra-curricular activity as well as in his studies.

Absence of Funds Halts Gym Drive Says Cookson, Financial Secretary

The campaign started two years ago for a new Lawrence gymnasium is lagging, according to Rev. Samuel Cookson, college financial secretary, with but few subscriptions and funds coming in. Unless more interest is manifested within the college than in the past year it is doubtful, according to Reverend Cookson, whether the campaign will be pushed during the next two or three years.

As the result of student agitation two years ago the movement for a new gym building was begun and pushed with great success. The aim was for a building that was to be more than the headquarters of the department of physical culture. It was hoped to make it a social center and the center of all campus activities. That program called for more money than would be necessary for a simple physical culture building such as we have had.

Need Cash—New Pledges

Approximately $85,000 has been conditionally pledged on raising $125,000. An additional $40,000 must be pledged to realize on this $85,000. Mr. Cookson states that if these pledges would be made with $50,000 in cash, deposited in the treasurer's office, there would be a good possibility of starting work on the new building this spring. The present difficulty, he states, is in getting new pledges and payment on those which may already be in effect.

It is the belief that the college, itself, has not been canvassed as thoroughly as possible, inasmuch as there have been no pledges made from the classes of '27, or '28, and from not more than 50% of the two upper classes.

Bishop Delivers Stirring Speech

Bishop Edwin H. Hughes, of Chicago and Boston, delivering the matriculation address in chapel Thursday, emphasized in a stirring challenge to his listeners the need for "Service" prompted by the motives of responsibility, obligation, and exaltation.

He elaborated further upon the duty which we owe to the world in general to try our utmost to give to the world as much as we have received.

"Obligation always incurs responsibility," he continued, "and history has shown that violation of this responsibility has proved fatal." Touching upon the phase of service prompted by obligation he said, "we take things too much for granted. We exist upon the labors of other men. We are the heirs of all the ages." He cautioned further that we should "get rid of that spirit of condescension in the life of service."

Margaret O'Leary, '24, is taking a business course in the Actual Business College, of this town.

Helen Cornican, '27, visited Friday and Saturday at the home of Mrs. Roland Thomas, in Neenah.

Frances Gates, '26, and Evelyn Thelander, '27, visited at Miss Thelander's home in Oshkosh, over the week-end.

Marion Bloedel, '28, had as guests over the week-end her sister, Amy May, and friend, Bernice Lee, both of Wau-pun.

Alan Hackworthy, '24, who is principal of the high school at Nukwonado, spent the week-end with Theta Phi fraternity brothers.

Letters Of a Lawrence Co-ed

Dear Jane:

I really don't know what connection there is between the cricket sweaters and the game "cricket," but I do know that the ones I saw at THE FAIR are as English-looking as the original "cricket" itself.

The Fair carries such a range of colors that it's awfully hard to decide. All of them are made on practically the same style—the slipover—and most of them have contrasting colors at wrist, collar and belt. There are the oddest weaves shown one of them gives a general box-like effect by reversing the weave every two inches. This one is brown and gold. Another, a gray one with slender blue lines running horizontally around it, achieves a different idea by a new rib weave. A plaid design in blue and tan emitted a very collegiate air.

You asked, Jane, what colors were new this fall. Judging by these sweaters, I'd say all of them were. I noticed the browns and tans, the blues and grays running a close race for favor. And each one of these colors has a whole range of shades that come from them.

The Fair sells them for prices ranging from $2.45 to $4.98.

Holeproof Hosiery

Now that cooler days are upon us, we begin to think of warmer hosiery. Heckert's are showing a narrow-ribbed, heavy mererized hose that is especially smart with low shoes. Light colors still predominate for fall wear, and French Tan, Otter, Jack Rabbit and Cordovan are the most popular. These are very specially priced at $1.00 per pair. A fine silk and fibre mixture in all the new shades are only $1.00.

The new "Van Dyke" hose demonstrates a charming contrast of black Pointex heel shading into a Nickel, Pebble, Tan bar, Beige or Gazelle-colored upper part that gives a very trim effect. $2.50 per pair.

That almost indispensable addition to a school costume—the sport hose come in plaid effects in tan and blue and black and gray. $2.25 per pair.

Some one has said that 'tis the perfume by which men remember—by which women inspire. That subtle, elusive, haunting breath is a memory of the personality of some one. Elizabeth Arden has caught the suggestion that to some means the witchery of moonlight nights, to some the romance of shady, far-away isles. And in each of her perfumes is embodied an individuality that you recognize as your own.

Babani's Ambre de Delhi, is for the maid who is conventional, stately and dignified. The so-called "modern" girl,—worldly, sophisticated, smart,—will choose Babani's Afghani. Babani's Chypre pleases the romantic, elusive, imaginative type. Ming, says Babani, is youthful, sparkling, gay and playful, the fragrance as spirited and chic as a Paris frock. And for that almost extinct species—the "demure" girl—there is the delicate odor of Jasmin.

"BOOST THE BAND"

"Boost the band" editorials have frequently appeared in past "Lawrentians." Usually they referred to a coming tag-day or to a campaign for generous contributions.

The band, being an institution of recognized usefulness on the campus, should never have had to stoop to that kind of begging, and, we hope, will never have to again. The recent action of the appropriations committee, apportioning to Student Senate an annual sum of money to be used for the upkeep of the band, has made our "pep musicians" practically self-supporting.

The new plan of the organization to continue its rehearsals all year long instead of breaking up after the football season is a step in the right direction for two reasons: It will result beneficially for the college in making a well-trained band available for the May fete and other occasions in the spring. It will also give the players a chance to work upon a different type of music than the "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here" type of thing, and to produce a musically worthwhile concert in mid year. Under the efficient direction of Bernard Behuken this new program should result in one of the best college bands in the state.

However, while the new appropriation will afford weekly rehearsals and music, it is not extravagantly large, and will not make the organization forever independent of the services of well-wishers. The players will continue to furnish their own uniforms, and out-of-town trips with the team will still be dependent upon the kindness of local automobile owners. Carl Mease, of the Conservatory faculty, has already volunteered the use of his car to help carry the band to Beloit. By the date of the Beloit game our band should be one which we will be proud to send to represent us, and it is to be hoped that enough of our faculty members and friends will follow Mr. McKee's lead, to make this trip possible.

CHAPEL VOLUNTARIES

"When is music not music?" is a question most Lawrence students would evidently answer by saying, "When it's a chapel voluntary."

The same students who listen with bated breath to a musical program in chapel, will drown out the preceding voluntary with loud conversation and laughter.

Perhaps they do not realize that the student or professor who plays this introduction to the chapel services is just as much a trained artist as are the performers upon the platform, who are introduced to you. The music for the organ voluntary is selected as carefully as if announcement were to be made of the titles, as is done for a musical program proper.

There is no more excuse for discourtesy to the player of the voluntary than there would be for discourtesy during any other part of the chapel service. We assume that carelessness, not boorishness, has caused the present situation, and that a little thought upon the matter will result in a remedied condition of affairs.

WARNING

Student Senate wishes to remind all freshmen that the wearing of the green insignia is compulsory, and that violations of the rule will be punished.

Former offenders have been compelled to wear their green caps and arm-bands for a more or less extended period of time after the rest of the class has been permitted to remove them. A few years ago the whole freshman class had to resume the wearing of the badges in the spring because they had been lax about living up to the requirements in the fall.

At its next meeting, the Senate will take action upon such violations as have been reported so far, and the result of its action will be made known to the freshmen either through "The Lawrentian" or in a chapel announcement.

RULES FOR LIBRARY

"Coming over to the 'Libe'?" Then pay particular attention to the new rules as listed by Miss Winifred Fehrenkamp, head librarian.

General rules of good behavior still apply—the library being a place in which to study and not to visit.

Seniors and Library Science students only are allowed in the stacks.

This year at closing time, instead of disturbing the attitude of study by a sonorous shout, the task is accomplished by means of a bell. It also rings ten minutes before closing time to call in books.

The rules are printed on the reserve slip so—no excuse for breaking them.

Library hours remain the same this year,—8 a. m. to 12:15 Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday; 1:30 to 5:45 p. m. Monday to Saturday inclusive, and 7:00 to 9:00 p. m. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

INTELLIGENCE?

If I am an idiot or an imbecile I'd surely like to know, If that is the way they mark the tests It really must be so.

Oh intelligence tests are sure the bunk, I'm sure that mine must be a flunk, For I think I called a dog a skunk, And a denim a drink, I know.

Was Carrie Nation's profession singing? Doc. Naylor said it was hammer slinging.

If he said it was, it must be so. Oh dear! I fear I am far too slow.

Criticism on last week's Lawrentian

There was no need of writing up the scholastic honors which Phi Kappa Tau fraternity won last year, for that is an old, old story, and of no particular interest to the students nowadays. In the case of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, it should have been written up to a greater extent. In fact, a cut of the sorority should have been run, for scholastic superiority is an achievement seldom obtained in the past by that particular group on our campus.

Dippy's Greetings and Advice to the "Pin-Heads."

Dear Lads of '28 (or over):—

Having seen even such uncouth individuals as the conductor of this column get their left lapels behind a pledge pin, I'm going to divulge some of the essential tactics of rushing a fraternity. Only yesterday I received the following letter from a well-meaning Frosh:

Dear Dippy:—

I am sorely puzzled and disappointed because I have not been pledged to a frat. I was at nearly all the frat parties about one night apiece, and with the "Elos" several times.

I made it as clear as I could that, while I did not want to appear to be egotistical, I really had been the outstanding leader of my high school. I told them that, although I had not been able to spare the time for school politics and class offices and that the football coach had a grudge against me, I was on our debate team and did most of the work as alternate, wrote articles for the school paper, was on the basketball team and chairman of the Junior prom—that is chairman of the decorations committee, which did most of the real work. I tried to show them what a true frat man I would make by dropping hints as to my somewhat notorious and exciting past; all about my ability as a shiek and how once I "passed-out" on some elderberry.

I showed all the boys that I was not "high-hat" by calling them by their first names—some of the guys like "Charley" Marsh; "Jake" Stoll and "Al" Franke. I showed them I was of superior mental talents by giving helpful hints from my outside experience as to how to improve their frat rooms and what men not to rush. I was a leader in all the games and rushing parties and helped my brother frosh get acquainted.

All of these things I did willingly and on my own accord but no doubt there were some things I must have left out; can you advise me?

Bashful.

Answer

Dear Bashful:— This may be a rather delicate subject, but I know you won't resent my frankness. Maybe your own friends won't tell you about it; maybe you'll often be a best man but never the groom. Dear Bashful, you may have thalitis, that peculiar disease that can be so easily remedied by blistering. If this does not help your situation any, I know nothing more that I can do.

Dippy.

Anybody Here Seen Jerry?

Jerry, the big mouse colored greyhound which has so faithfully guarded the entrance to the Theta Phi house for the past six months, has been missing since a week ago last Sunday, according to his owner, Gleen Nashold, '25. Jerry is the only greyhound in the Fox River Valley, and probably the only Long Haired English Greyhound in the country, as the breed is nearly extinct.

As a rule Jerry is kept tied to the front porch of the fraternity house, but on this particular Sunday afternoon the dog was taken into the house for a while. Nashold believes the dog escaped while someone was either entering or leaving the house.

Jerry, now nearly two years old, has a very interesting history. He was brought to Chicago from Italy by an Italian fruit dealer. The Italian when forced to sell the dog because of congested living conditions in the city, said that the animal was very valuable, being one of the last of a famous breed of coursing dogs originated by the Duke of Savoy, a great lover of the chase, sometime in the sixteenth century.

Mr. Nashold will appreciate greatly any information as to the whereabouts of Jerry. He does not think the dog is lost, but that he has been accepted by someone in town.

Clippinger, Baker Speak to Teachers

Prof. Frank W. Clippinger, head of the college rhetoric department, and Prof. Earle Baker of the Conservatory faculty spoke before sections of the Northwestern Wisconsin Teachers' Convention, which was held at Oshkosh on October ninth and tenth.

Professor Baker spoke to the music section on "The Boy's Voice," on Friday. Most of his material was gathered from his experiences with high school and grade school students.

Professor Clippinger talked to one of the Friday morning sessions of the high school teachers of English. His subject was "What your students think of you." He based his talk on material gathered from his work at Lawrence among Freshman rhetoric students. Besides the grammar examination and the themes, the freshmen have been required to fill out a questionnaire giving information about their high school courses in composition. From these questionnaires Professor Clippinger took most of his material.

Coolidge-Dawes Men Plan Big Enrollment Campaign

The first rally of the Lawrence Coolidge and Dawes Republican Club will be held Thursday evening at 7:15 in the Literature Room on the first floor of Main Hall. The meeting will mark the beginning of the enrollment drive. All students who are willing to pledge themselves as supporting the Republican platform will be enrolled and will receive their badges. The constitution of the club will be presented and the remaining four members of the executive undergraduate committee will be chosen. The Lawrence club will then be chartered as one of the 500 Coolidge and Dawes clubs in the big universities and colleges all over the country.

The committee announces its desire that not only every student of voting age attend the meeting, but also that every student of Lawrence who is boosting the Republican club should attend the meeting.

Physics Prof Broadcasts Call to Blue Radio Fans

Would you like to belong to a radio club?

Professor A. D. Power of the Physics department wishes to announce that if enough interest is evinced to make such a society worth while, one will be formed. A meeting will be called in the physics lecture room on Monday, October 20, at 4:30 p. m., and all those interested in the organization of a radio club are urged to be present.

Attempts were made to start a club last year, and although there was plenty of enthusiasm, there was a lack of equipment. It was decided that it would be best to drop the matter under existing conditions. This year there is an adequate amount of equipment, and it will be possible to give more opportunities.

This Road Had the "Silver Lining" Monopoly

People have become famous and have gotten their names in print by discovering gold mines, but although they recently discovered a "silver mine" on the Lake road near Appleton, a certain group of Lawrence co-eds will never win fame for it. Nothing but a hearty vote of thanks will be their lot.

After a picnic at the lake, the silverware of the picnickers was to be placed in the car next to the rear for the return trip. During the excitement which always follows a co-ed picnic, it was placed on the running board by mistake!

Imagine the wonder and surprise of the occupants of the last car when they caught the gleam of silver shining up at them from the road. Backing up they found silver knives, forks, and spoons, scattered along the road for quite a distance. The silver was soon entirely recovered and the party proceeded home without further mishap.

"Solitude-ology" Course Urged by Hannum at 'Y'

"No man's education is complete until he has taken a course in 'solitude-ology,'" said Professor Robert H. Hannum in an address at Y. M. C. A. meeting last Sunday night.

"Too many students suffer with intellectual dyspepsia," he said. "The remedy is 'solitude-ology'—going out alone into solitude, without any burden or problem on one's mind; not to see scenery; not to meditate over difficulties; but just to 'listen in'. One must cut out the 'static' of life. As a reward there comes a sustaining power of harmony and peace, which gives a man confidence and balance, dispelling all trouble. It puts one face to face with God."

Adeline Lang, '28, and Alice Engleheart, '28, spent the week-end at Kaukauna.

Catlin's Men Romp Over Watertown

Watertown Boys Helpless Before Lawrence; Feind Wins Shoes

The Blue and White of Lawrence again waved victorious over Lawrence Field, Saturday, October 11, Mark Catlin's gridmen romping away with Northwestern, 55 to 0, finishing the second game with their goal line yet uncrossed.

Northwestern was plainly outclassed, not making a first down during the game, while Catlin's men scored almost at will. Northwestern, whenever by any chance they obtained the ball, had to punt; Lawrence gained ground consistently and crossed the enemies' goal line eight times.

Score in Two Minutes

The game was called at 2:35, Dunham kicking for Lawrence. The Northwestern receiver was downed in his tracks. On the second down, Northwestern punted, Briese running the ball back 20 yards. Captain Stoll scooped up a fumble and made a slight gain. On the next play, with the game less than two minutes old, "Smiley" Feind crossed the line for the first touchdown, thus winning the pair of shoes offered by Heckert's Shoe Company to the first Lawrence man to make a touchdown in the first conference game. Captain Stoll kicked goal. Lawrence received, and a few plays later Feind again romped across the line, establishing all the more firmly his claim to the shoes. Stoll again kicked goal in the play after the touchdown. Northwestern received, but knowing it futile to hit the Blue and White line, they punted, Kotal running the ball back 25 yards. Heideman carried the ball over for the third touchdown of the quarter a few plays later. Stoll, according to custom, kicked over. Lawrence received and the quarter ended with the ball on the 48 yard line.

Start Passing Game

On the first play of the second quarter, Eddie Kotal broke loose on a delayed cross-back and ran 52 yards for a touchdown. Stoll kicked goal. Lawrence kicked, but Northwestern could not gain and was forced to punt. Lawrence then opened up with a passing game, with Packard and Kotal on the receiving end for good gains. Kotal went through left guard for the fourth touchdown of the game, but Stoll's kick was not allowed. Northwestern kicked to the 5 yard line and Kotal ran it back 29 yards. Lawrence fumbled on the 32 yard line and Northwestern recovered the ball, this being the closest they got to Lawrence's goal for the day. Further satisfaction was denied them, for on the next play Kotal copped their attempted pass and ran 39 yards. Zussman caught another pass and advanced the ball to the 5 yard line. The Northwesterners held, however, and the ball went over to them. They punted as the half ended.

Third Quarter Summary

In the third quarter, Briese made the sixth touchdown and Captain Stoll made the score 41 by his accurate kicking. Briese made another good run on the

"LET'S GO!"

Loyal supporters of the Blue and White football squad are urged to meet at the Northwestern depot tomorrow morning at 7:15 A. M. to give the team a rousing send-off before they leave for Iowa City where they play the strong Iowa University team Saturday afternoon.

The score may be influenced greatly by the impetus we give the squad through our support. Let's turn out in force!

Denny's Proteges Get Going In Basketball

Early Caging Practice Starts for Non-Football Candidates

Basketball practice started yesterday, for all men who are not out for football. According to Coach A. C. Denny, in the past the men who have not been out for football are never in condition when basketball practice starts, and cannot compete equally with the men who have been out for football. Therefore, he has decided to have this early practice to get these men into condition. The practices will be held three times a week for the first two weeks, and then the men will turn out regularly every night.

Heavy Schedule Ahead

This year Lawrence faces a very hard schedule of sixteen games, and the first game will be held ten days after the last football game. This is the first time in the history of Lawrence that basketball practice has been started before the football season is over, and it is just another step towards putting Lawrence among the leaders in all forms of athletics.

The following men reported yesterday to Coach Denny for the first practice: Co. Hinge, Hulbert, Ashman, Groves, Kosbab, Clark, and Hagen. As soon as the football season is over Kotal, Heideman, Briese, and Zussman will join the squad. With these men, who have all had at least a year of training under Denny, for a nucleus, we can expect to see a smoothly-working team take the floor against our first opponents on December second.

Ripon Captain-Elect Enters Beloit Fold

Beloit, Wis.—The second captain elect of Ripon college athletic teams failed to fill the position given him this year when Bernard "Boob" Darling, 200 pound all state tackle, entered Beloit college today as a sophomore. Darling will not be able to play in conference games this year, but has two more years of competition before he will be graduated.

Earl Elleson, captain elect of the Ripon track team and holder of marks in the mile and two mile races in the Midwest conference, deserted the northern institution for Wisconsin last fall. Brietzman, star forward on the Ripon basketball quintet, entered Beloit last spring.

Pigskin Squad Leaves Friday For Iowa City

Football Team Meets University of Iowa, Saturday, in Big-Ten Contest

Eighteen husky Blue and White gridmen will leave tomorrow morning over the Northwestern railroad for Chicago, where they will entrain Friday night for Iowa City to do battle with Coach Burt Ingwersen's Hawkeye eleven. This is the first game with a Big Ten squad since 1920 when the University of Wisconsin trampled on the Blues at Madison.

Following their overwhelming defeat of Northwestern college here Saturday the Catlinmen are confident of giving a good account of themselves and have spent the week in polishing off the rough spots brought to light in their last contest. Catlin is perfecting a passing attack and is also showing his men the fine points of the forward pass defense. Several positions in the line need smoothing off but this will take but little work. As all the men came out of the Saturday fray undamaged by injuries there will be no delay in getting down to work for what is termed, by many, one of the biggest contests on the Lawrence schedule.

Iowa Team Powerful

In her contest with Ohio Saturday Iowa showed great potential strength; her line was great and made Ohio resort to other than straight football to gain. One weakness, however, was brought to light and that was, Iowa is open to a strong passing attack, Ohio being able to gain several times by the aerial route.

The backfield men with Captain Leland Parkin at quarter were able to make very substantial gains through the Ohio line. Graham at half and the veteran Fisher at full will also bear watching as will the flashy Brookins. In the last few minutes of Saturday's game Brookins went in and very nearly won the game with his running, dodging, hurdling and rolling. He is a dangerous man, and should he get away, it is hardly possible that he will be caught. Brookins is the chap who holds the world's record at hurdles won in the Olympic games in France during the summer. But he is a thin, light fellow and can be stopped.

Who will accompany the team on this trip is at this writing unknown but it is very probably that Catlin will rely on his speed merchants to carry the honors in the backfield and his heaviest and fastest linemen to match their skill with that of Ingwersen's huskies. Ed-

Three Teams Look Good In Title Fight

Lawrence, Beloit, and Carroll Bid High for Honors

Lawrence, Beloit and Carroll are putting in a strong bid for sectional titles this season.

Lawrence has an undisputed claim this year as a headline attraction. With practically the same men back and a host of new recruits, championship hopes are at a high pitch in the Methodist camp. The combination of a speedy backfield with virtually a "stonewall" line will no doubt be an important factor in deciding the outcome of the Beloit and Carroll games.

Eddie Kotal, all state quarter-back, is regarded as one of the most dangerous men on the squad. His versatile style of directing plays while in battle is one which is feared by the opponents.

The outstanding men holding down line positions are: Council, Kiessling, guards; Packard, Dunham and Stark, tackles; Olsson, Gander, center; Stoll, Cooke, Holdridge, and Boettcher, ends. The backfield includes stars such as: Kotal, quarter; Feind, Briese, Nobles, Heideman, Nason, and Delforge.

Yearlings Will Meet Oshkosh Second String

Frosh Expect Real Tussle With Powerful Normal School Team, Saturday

The Frosh football team will have a real job on their hands when they meet the Oshkosh Normal Seconds at Oshkosh Saturday. The normal school has been turning out some good elevens and if the second team may be judged by the first they will be a hard crew to oppose.

There has been little change in the Frosh line-up since the St. Johns game, although some of the fellows have had some narrow escapes in regard to eligibility rulings. An addition to the backfield in the person of Elmer Ott constitutes the only probable change. Ott was formerly a star back-field at Kaukauna High School.

Strenuous Practice

The squad has been worked hard this week correcting faults which cropped out in the game with the cadets and in learning several new plays which have gone well in scrimmage. The men are all in good condition and are ready for a hard fight at Oshkosh.

This will be the first time the squad has had a chance to work with Lawrence rooters in the bleachers.

If you have a smile we take it; if you haven't we make it.

Team Leaves For Iowa City Friday

die Kotal, as usual, will carry a great part of the offense and it is possible that he will very soon take some of the confidence out of the Iowa outfit. Stoll at end and Dunham at tackle are as good as any Big Ten linemen and with Olsson at center, the injury to his shoulder permitting, the line will be well balanced and under pressure is expected to uncover much of its hidden strength.

The Lawrence-Iowa game is one in which psychology will play a big part, for Lawrence will go into the game with that fighting spirit made famous by so many Lawrence teams, determined to do their best. As for the Hawkeyes it will be a mere practice game, a letup in several weeks of hard training, but it is this same line of thought that led to Centre's victory over Harvard and Iowa's defeat of Yale a few years ago.

Coach Mark Catlin, newly appointed Lawrence football mentor, hopes to iron out the wrinkles that were outstanding in preliminary clashes this season.

Beloit Again Powerful

Beloit, 1923 Champions of the Midwest, are under way to duplicate their performance of a year ago. Although the loss of Addie, McAuliffe and Wheeler put a kink in the Beloit machine, Coach Tommy Mills rests his hopes on Rowbotham at center position; and Vondrashek and Roscoe, at halves. Dawson, phenomenal drop-kick artist, is another safe bet for Beloit. His performance in the defeat of Carleton last Saturday was supreme in every sense of the word.

It is expected that the Lawrence-Beloit game will be the feature contest in the Midwest struggle.

Carroll Plays Dark Horse

"Dark horses" are featured in practically every football conference schedule. Carroll is this year the undisputed Little Five "Dark Horse." Upsetting Campion College and Milwaukee Normal by large scores, Carroll looms as a possible contender for the State Title.

Carroll bases its hopes on the brilliant exhibition displayed through such men as Bray, McMurray, Black, Dugan and Sterr. The Lawrence-Carroll game will have no little bearing on title hopes. Because of the refusal of Carroll to adopt the "Frosh ruling" in force in the Mid-west conference, Beloit does not meet Carroll this year.

Ripon Out of Running

Ripon frankly admits no pennant aspirations this season. They have lost practically their entire team including its demigogic star, "the Terrible Tiny Trantow."

However, Ripon hopes to upset some dope with regard to the decision of the title by giving stiff competition to the contenders.

Hamline's claim to the title is very weak, since many stars were lost through graduation last year. However, Hamline promises to furnish the necessary strength for a real lively mix-up in the Lawrence-Hamline fray.

John Purdy, graduate of the University of Michigan, and a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon, attended the dancing party at the Sigma Phi Epsilon house Friday evening. Mr. Purdy is assistant superintendent of the Tuttle Press Company, of Appleton.

Girls' Gym Exams Show Few Defects

Whereas there were a surprising large percentage of physical defects among freshman men, the physical examination now being held for women show but very few.

According to a statement made by Miss Lora Miller of the department of physical education, there are so far but three or four who are defective, and although there will doubtless be additions to this number, the total will in all probability be lower than last year.

Any woman who desires to do so may take this examination by making arrangements with Miss Miller. It is compulsory for gym students and those out for sports under the direction of the department, but any others interested may see Miss Miller for an appointment.

Old Barnyard Sport the Rage at Brokaw

Horseshoe is becoming one of Lawrence's most popular minor sports as is shown by the fact that already thirty Brokaw boys have entered the tournament for the singles championship of the hall. The tournament will be run this week, and will be continued until a champion has been determined. The three courts, which have been installed in front of Ormsby hall, are in use most of the time, and the tournament will take place there.

Chief Justice's Son to Speak at Chapel

The first speaker who has been engaged by the Lawrence Coolidge and Dawes club is Stephen A. Day, son of Chief Justice Day of the U. S. Supreme Court and Attorney to Charles G. Dawes. Mr. Day is making a campaign in this vicinity with Appleton as his headquarters and has agreed to speak to Lawrence students at Chapel, Friday morning. Mr. Day will speak on the coming election, giving a non-partisan view of the political situation.

Christensen Will Wield '26 Gavel

George Christensen of Oshkosh was elected president at a meeting of the Junior class Monday afternoon, to succeed John O'Leary who is attending Wisconsin university this year. Gertrude Walton is vice president, Gladys Jarrett, treasurer and Olive Hamar, secretary. Donovan Erickson was elected Junior representative to the Forensic board.

The question of class dues was discussed and it was decided that the dues would remain at $1.00.

Margaret Lahr, '25, spent the weekend at Racine.

"Blue" Defeats Northwestern

next kickoff, catching the ball between the goal posts he advanced it to the 40 yard line. A few plays later, he nabbed a pass. Feind made a good gain, and Zussman crossed the line. "Jake" made his total equal a touchdown by kicking over the sixth time. The quarter ended with the ball in Northwestern's possession in the 42 yard line.

In the fourth quarter, Cook made a long gain by blocking Northwestern's punt and carrying the ball to the 30 yard line. Lawrence then opened up with an aerial attack, which was not very successful, nine attempts being missed. Nason carried the ball over in this period for the last touchdown of the game, and Stoll finished the scoring by kicking over in the after-touchdown play. The whistle blew at 4:20.

Score by periods:

Lawrence 21 13 14 7—55
Northwestern 0 0 0 0—0

Summary

Lawrence scoring: Touchdowns, Feind (2), Heideman, Kotal (2), Briese, Zussman, Nason; points after touchdown: Stoll (7).

Officials: referee, Hugel, University of Marquette; umpire, Borgelt, University of Wisconsin; head linesman, Wyman, Ripon.

P. Brettman was the defense star for Northwestern. Kotal, although watched closely, broke loose for several brilliant runs, his run of 52 yards in the second quarter being the longest run for the game. Feind played his usual good game, as did Heideman and Zussman. Briese made several good gains by hanging on to passes. Holderidge and Olsson did good work on the line, but "Swede's" bad arm bothered him and he was taken out in the last quarter.

The game confirmed the playing of the team against St. Norberts.

If Your Pen Demands Your Attention

YOU cannot compose your thoughts—cannot note the points of a lecture, if you are writing with a pen that loses step as you go along. That pen is a mental drag.

The sooner you replace it with the never failing, never ailing Parker Duofold, the quicker you will hit your stride in college work and social correspondence.

Duofold not only gives the mind full play and the hand full swing—its fit and balanced symmetry and jewel-smooth point inspire and stimulate. They tend to develop a hand of speed and character.

And we guarantee the point, if not mistreated, for 25 years' WEAR. So Duofold at $5 and $7 is the most economical pen—less costly than short-lived pens priced lower.

Any good pen counter will sell you Parker Duofold—flashing plain black; or black-tipped lacquer-red, a color that makes it handsome to own and hard to lose.

Ad Students Do Copy for Local Stores

Dyson and Appleton Merchants
Join to Make Ad Course
Practical

The move among colleges toward making their courses more practical has manifested itself at Lawrence in the class in advertising taught by Mr. C. L. Dyson of the Commerce Department. Mr. Dyson, in conjunction with a local merchant, Mr. W. W. Frank, of the Fair Store, has originated and put into execution a plan whereby all members of his class may get real experience in writing advertisements for local concerns.

Four Stores Help

Four representative stores—Novelty Boot Shop, Galpin's Hardware, Thiede's Clothing Shop, and The Fair Store, are co-operating with Mr. Dyson and his students through this plan. Each week, two students from the advertising class are assigned to assist each merchant. After conferring with their "employer" for the week, the young men write up copy for daily newspapers and for the Lawrentian, to place before the public articles to be featured by that store during the ensuing week. A copy of the ad and its suggested layout are handed in to Mr. Dyson, and the original is given to the merchant. He makes any changes that he thinks necessary. When the advertisement appears in print, it is brought to class, where it is compared with the first draft, and the corrections made by the merchant are discussed and noted for future use. In this way, the practical experience of several business men is utilized in class,—rather an innovation in the teaching of advertising. As there are about twenty men in the class, each student receives one of these special assignments once in two and one-half weeks.

Beneficial to Both

According to Professor Dyson, the merchants readily saw that the plan would be of benefit to them as well as to the students, and so it has proved to be. Already several novel and practical ideas have been advanced by the young advertisers. This scheme is working out very well and shows splendid possibilities, Mr. Dyson says. It will be used throughout the two quarters of the course.

Mr. Frank Talks

Mr. Franks, new manager of the Fair Store, addressed the advertising class last week upon the problems of advertising as found in the dry-goods business. Mr. Dyson has planned for a series of such talks by local merchants throughout the remainder of the course.

Dainty Curtains Flutter at Frosh Men's Dormitory

Brokaw Hall this year presents a very homelike appearance. Although not filled to its capacity, the 122 who do make it their habitat express nothing but satisfaction both with regard to "grub," as the fellows are wont to describe the meals served, and the rooms.

It is believed that the majority of Brokaw men will make unusually good husbands, (later on, of course), if evidences within the dormitory are to be relied upon. Practically every room has been given a home-like appearance with a set of serim curtains. A number of the men are busying themselves in culinary arts and if their present rate of progress in this connection continues, there is no doubt but what when the time comes for "work about the house," Brokaw men will be quite experienced. They will be able to render efficient assistance to Mrs. . . . Those we have especial reference to are the nine waiters and other kitchen help, under the capable direction of William Steinberg, head waiter.

Many Foreign Students

Brokaw Hall this season approaches the cosmopolitan. Japan, Korea, China and the United States are represented on its register. George Friginger of New London is the latest arrival at the hall. George won the oratorical contest in 1920 for Lawrence and his coming again has been welcomed by all. Bernard Herrick, sophomore, has just returned. During the summer he entered a shooting contest with the Wisconsin National Guard and has now the distinction of a corporal's rank. Last but not least, Brokaw numbers among its guests two freshmen from California, who walked the entire distance from their respective towns. The fellows heard of Lawrence's qualifications and past record, so regardless of distance they tramped the full mileage, except where they were fortunate enough to be transported a few miles by some kindly autoist.

New Presbyterian Pastor Delivers Chapel Address

Wednesday morning Lawrence students met a new friend. He is Dr. V. B. Scott, the pastor of the Memorial Presbyterian Church, who succeeds Rev. Ernest Wright. This summer Dr. Scott left Minneapolis to accept the call of the Appleton congregation. During his chapel address, he spoke on the many temptations we meet in life and the need for a continuous combat.
